Maono PD200x Dynamic Microphone (Black)

Experience a new level of audio quality with the Maono PD200x dynamic microphone, which combines flawless tone clarity with a modern design. Thanks to its exceptionally clean sound provided by a custom microphone capsule, this model is the perfect choice for professionals and enthusiasts seeking reliability and aesthetics. The durable metal construction, intuitive sound and RGB lighting control are just the beginning of the benefits that the Maono PD200x offers. Whether you're hosting podcasts, participating in video conferences, or recording courses, this microphone is designed to meet your expectations.

Custom Microphone Capsule

The key to perfect sound is the innovative Maono PD200x microphone capsule. Precisely designed, it ensures exceptionally clean and clear sound, which is essential for professional recordings. It perfectly balances the tonality, bringing out the fullness of the user's voice, which is invaluable for podcasting or webinars.

Impressive RGB Lighting

Visual appeal of the microphone is as important as its functionality, and the Maono PD200x does not disappoint in this regard. RGB lighting with the option to choose from 8 colors, color-changing mode, and the ability to turn off the backlight add a unique character to the device.

Advanced Maono Link Software

Maono Link software extends the capabilities of the PD200x microphone, giving the user control over the sound at both basic and advanced levels. Equalizer, Limiter, Compressor are just some of the features that allow for sound customization. Adjusting the sound to your preferences has never been so easy and intuitive, which is a significant advantage when working on various projects.

Metal Construction

Durability and solidity are two characteristics that the Maono PD200x microphone can boast of. The metal construction not only adds elegance but also guarantees the device's longevity. This microphone is designed to withstand long recording sessions and daily use without compromising on quality or appearance.

Intuitive Sound Control

Designed with user comfort in mind, the PD200x features a volume control knob for both your own voice and headphone audio. This makes the microphone extremely user-friendly, allowing for quick and precise audio level adjustments during use. Additionally, the built-in mute button allows for instant privacy, which is crucial during live broadcasts.
