PULUZ PU3005 C-Shaped Handle

PULUZ PU3005 is a portable C-shaped handheld stabilizer designed for DSLR cameras. It is known for its high-quality craftsmanship and versatility, as it is compatible with all cameras with a 1/4" tripod mounting socket. The handle of the stabilizer is covered with foam padding for comfortable grip even during extended use. The base of the stabilizer is also padded to prevent any damage to the camera and reduce vibrations. Underneath, there is a 1/4" threaded knob to secure the camera in place. Furthermore, built-in skis with anti-slip surface on the bottom provide additional stability. Located at the top of the handle are three cold shoe mounts for attaching a microphone or lights to achieve better results.

Durable and Comfortable Design

The handle is made of durable ABS material, ensuring a load capacity of up to 3kg. It is suitable for both studio and outdoor use. The stabilizer handle is covered with soft foam padding, providing comfortable and secure grip even during long hours of photography.

Compatibility with Multiple Cameras

Thanks to the standard 1/4" thread, PULUZ PU3005 is compatible with most cameras that have a tripod mounting socket. Regardless of the brand or model of your camera, you can easily mount it on this stabilizer.

Stability and Vibration Reduction

The base of the stabilizer is lined with foam to protect the camera from scratches and reduce the impact of vibrations on the quality of photos or videos. This ensures clear and stable shots.
