Cutting Nippers 6"

Professional, universal Deli brand side cutter pliers in black, recommended also for demanding users. The handle was covered with a special, pleasant to the touch plastic, so the tool does not slip out of your hand. The pliers are made of carbon steel, which ensures precise and easy cutting. The hardness of the EDL2706 is 56-60HRC, so you can easily cut, for example, small cables. The product also has a built-in extension spring, which makes it even more comfortable to use.

Practical

Deli side cutters can be used in many situations. They are indispensable in the toolbox of assemblers and toolmakers, and should also be found in the workshop of DIY enthusiasts. They will come in handy when cutting wires, wiring, metal ties, etc.

Robust design, comfortable to use

The blades are made of carbon steel with a hardness of 56-60 HRC, allowing for precise cuts. The plastic handles are hard-wearing and, thanks to their non-slip finish, lie well in the hand for stability. A spring is placed under the pliers, making use even more comfortable.
