Thunderrobot Shadow Wing wireless headset HL504 (white)

Thunderrobot Shadow Wing HL504 Headphones (White)

Thunderrobot Shadow Wing HL504 are exceptional headphones in an elegant white color. They stand out with the ability to simultaneously connect to two devices, an impressively low latency of 40ms, and the versatility of operating modes - wireless and wired. Additionally, thanks to the noise reduction feature, they ensure clear and undisturbed connections. The sleek finish and powerful 40mm diameter speakers complete the whole, creating a product that will satisfy the most demanding users.

Simultaneous Connection

Thunderrobot Shadow Wing HL504 headphones are incredibly versatile. With the ability to connect to two devices at the same time, the headphones are perfect for everyday use.

Minimal Latency

Thanks to the amazingly low latency of 40ms, Thunderrobot HL504 headphones guarantee crystal-clear sound in real-time. This makes them not only suitable for listening to music but also for gaming or watching movies.

Versatility of Applications

Do you love freedom but don't want to give up the reliability of a cable at crucial moments? Thunderrobot Shadow Wing HL504 is the answer to your needs. The headphones can be used both wirelessly and with a cable, adapting to your lifestyle.

Noise Reduction During Calls

Communication is key, which is why Thunderobot HL504 is equipped with noise reduction technology during calls. Phone conversations become clearer, and your words reach the interlocutor without any disturbances, regardless of the surroundings.

Interesting Details

Not only technology, but also the design is top-notch. The white finish combined with 40mm diameter speakers makes the Thunderobot Shadow Wing HL504 look incredibly stylish. The Thunderobot brand pays attention to every, even the smallest detail, delivering a product that is both functional and elegant.
