ANLAN 01-ACPJ32-02A Ultrasonic Cleansing (White)

ANLAN 01-ACPJ32-02A is not just a modern ultrasonic peeling device, but a comprehensive solution for anyone desiring healthy, clear, and firm facial skin. Combining advanced technologies with ease of use, this product offers assistance in effective pore cleansing, blackhead and acne reduction, and visible skin tightening. With a vibration frequency of 24,000KHz, this device is ideal for individuals dealing with oily skin, large pores, or acne.

Ultrasonic Pore Cleansing

The ultrasonic mode of ANLAN utilizes high-frequency vibrations to gently yet effectively remove makeup residue, dirt, and other impurities. This technique deeply cleanses the pores, leaving the skin fresh without the risk of irritation that can occur with traditional cleansing methods.

EMS - Electromuscle Stimulation

The EMS (electromuscle stimulation) feature in ANLAN is dedicated to skin firming. By gently stimulating facial muscles, this mode helps improve facial contours, reduce fine lines and wrinkles, and provides an overall lifting effect, which is visible after just a few uses.

Positive Ion Mode

The positive ion mode is a revolutionary method for eliminating blackheads, dead skin cells, and excess sebum. This technology uses ions to deeply cleanse the skin, which is particularly helpful for individuals dealing with acne and oily skin.

Negative Ion Mode

The negative ion mode in ANLAN focuses on enhancing the skin's ability to absorb nutrients. It functions as a firming and nourishing treatment that helps the skin maintain a healthy, radiant appearance, while also increasing the effectiveness of applied creams and serums.

Moisture Atomization

Lastly, but equally important, is the moisture atomization function, which provides gentle hydration to the skin during the procedure. This not only increases user comfort but also helps maintain moisturized and nourished skin.
