Esperanza EH183 BT handset (black)

The Esperanza EH183 Bluetooth handset is an ideal choice for people who are looking for high quality, convenience and functionality. With the ability to connect to two devices at the same time, the ergonomic shape and long battery life, this handset will be perfect for both long trips and everyday use. Lightweight and discreet, it will easily fit into your daily style.

Dual connection

The Esperanza EH183 handset is distinguished by its ability to simultaneously connect to two cell phones or other Bluetooth devices. This feature is extremely useful for people who frequently switch between two devices, for example, a private and a business phone. This simplifies call management and makes the EH183 indispensable in a dynamic business environment.

Ergonomic design

One of the key features of the EH183 handset is its ergonomic, ear-fitting design and comfortable clip. This ensures that the handset remains stable even when moving, which is important for active or frequent travelers. The lightweight design (only 6.5g) and small dimensions (50.0 x 14.5 x 22mm) make the user hardly feel its presence.

Battery performance

The built-in 50mAh battery enables long talk time (up to 210 minutes) and music listening (up to 150 minutes, depending on volume). This makes the EH183 handset the perfect companion for travel or a long day at work. In addition, charging time is just 120 minutes, a significant advantage for those with limited access to power sources.

Additional features

The EH183 handset has practical functions such as answering and ending calls, volume control, which increases its usability. The Bluetooth connection range is up to 10 meters, providing freedom of movement without the risk of signal loss. Supplied with a charging cable, the handset is ready for use right out of the box. When you choose the EH183 by Esperanza, you are choosing a combination of convenience, quality and functionality.
