Portable Boat and Kayak Pump - Flextail Max Boat Pump

Discover a new level of water travel quality with the Flextail Max Boat Pump - a reliable, efficient, and easy-to-use pump that is an essential companion for every kayaker and boat enthusiast. The kit includes everything you need for quick and efficient inflation or deflation: the pump, six nozzles, a USB cable, a storage bag, and an instruction manual. This compact set guarantees maximum convenience and efficiency, both on and off the water.

High Performance

The Flextail Max Boat Pump stands out with impressive performance. It can easily inflate a single kayak up to 15 times or a double kayak up to 10 times on a single charge. This means uninterrupted water adventures without worrying about frequent recharging. This feature makes every trip more comfortable and less stressful.

Two-Way Functionality

This pump not only allows for inflation but also quick deflation of kayaks and boats. This functionality makes the Max Boat Pump extremely practical - after your water adventure, you can easily prepare your equipment for transport or storage.

Ease of Use

User-friendliness is another significant advantage of the Flextail Max Boat Pump. Intuitive operation and clear instructions allow for a quick start, even for individuals who have never used similar devices before. The kit also includes six different nozzles, ensuring compatibility with various equipment.

Portability and Durability

The Flextail pump is characterized not only by its high functionality but also by its compact dimensions and durable construction. The included storage bag facilitates transport and protects the device, which is especially important for active individuals who frequently travel.

Universal Power Source

Another advantage of the pump is its universal power source using a USB cable. This makes charging the device simple and convenient – you can connect it to a car, power bank, or laptop. This makes the Flextail Max Boat Pump an ideal solution for those who value mobility and independence.
