Summit PolarPro Landscape KIT

The Summit Landscape kit from the PolarPro brand surprises not only with perfectly matched equipment for passionate photographers, but also provides accessories made of the highest quality materials. The minimalist form factor of the Summit filter system and lightweight aluminum construction compared to traditional landscape filter systems make it an ideal kit for photographers who love challenges and are not afraid of wildlife adventure.

Excellent image quality

The Circular Polarizer filter with an aluminum frame not only provides filter protection, but also reduces unwanted flare, resulting in clearer, more defined colors. And ND filters with 16-layer coatings reduce light, allowing long exposures without sacrificing image quality. An ND4-GR filter is also included to control exposure and further adds a subtle gradient effect, balancing exposure in different lighting conditions.

Reliable components

The aluminum construction was created for professional photographers who are constantly looking for challenges in the field. Rugged and sturdy, it ensures reliability even in the most demanding conditions, all while maintaining consistent quality for years to come. Equipped with a filter lock and a hood clip, the core provides exceptional flexibility of use. The threaded plates, on the other hand, allow free 360° rotation of the mounted filters, giving you full control over the angle and composition of your photographs.
