Warsun S031 headlamp flashlight, 180lm, 3xAAA

The Warsun S031 headlamp flashlight is a piece of equipment worth carrying with you. Equipped with a COB light source, it offers a brightness of as much as 180 lumens, making it indispensable in any situation - from running after dark to night hiking in the mountains. With three practical light modes: strong, weak and SOS, you can easily adjust it to your individual needs.

Comfort and Versatility

The Warsun S031 was designed with comfort in mind. It is extremely lightweight - it weighs just 37 grams, which means that even after a long time of wearing it, it is not an unpleasant burden. In addition, the ability to change the angle of illumination allows you to precisely direct the light where you need it at the moment.

Durability and resistance

S031 was created from durable ABS material and performs well in harsh conditions. It exhibits high drop resistance - up to 2 meters, so you can use it in the field without worry. Moreover, thanks to its IPX4-rated water resistance, it is splash-proof, which is especially important in rainy weather.

Energy and power

Powered by three AAA batteries, the flashlight guarantees a long runtime, allowing you to use it for many hours. This type of power supply is also a guarantee of easy battery replacement. You can find AAA batteries at almost any store and they fit in any pocket. The Warsun S031 headlamp flashlight is an ideal choice for anyone who values performance, comfort and durability.
