Your reliable ally in the fight against unwanted hair

The usual ways of fighting unwanted hair have proved ineffective or unsatisfactory in your case? Are you fed up with hair growing back too quickly? IPL depilation may be perfect for you! How does it work? The light beams reach deep into the roots of the hairs and destroy their roots with the help of high temperature. It's a fast, effective, yet safe way to get rid of unwanted hair from all over the body - from legs and arms, to underarms and back, to bikini area and face.

Get rid of unwanted hair for longer

You no longer need to waste time and money on visits to beauty salons. With ANLAN you can carry out an effective hair removal treatment at home! How to do it? At first, use an epilator 3 times a week. After about a month, hair growth will be significantly inhibited. For the next few days, carry out the depilation treatment once a week. The hair will become softer and finer. After about 8 weeks, just use the epilator 1-2 times a month. You will quickly notice that hair will almost stop growing back!

2 work modes to choose from

To make you even more comfortable, the epilator offers 2 modes of operation. The continuous mode allows you to epilate larger areas of the body quickly and efficiently. It is ideal for legs or hands, for example. Basic mode will provide you with greater precision. Use it to epilate smaller or more sensitive areas of the skin such as underarms, knees, bikini area or face.

Adjust the energy level to your needs

The possibilities don't end there! ANLAN's IPL epilator also lets you set the energy level. With a 5-stage adjustment, you can easily adjust the device's operation to the area you're epilating, your needs or habits. The lowest level provides more skin protection, while the highest level allows you to remove hairs more effectively. Just starting your adventure with this method of epilation? To begin with, we recommend choosing the first energy level - once you become familiar with the epilator's performance, you can try the next!

Additional magnetic cap included

Do you want more precision during the procedure? Do you intend to epilate smaller or more delicate parts of your skin? The included replacement cap will certainly come in handy! With its help you can reduce the area of irradiation and gain the desired precision. The magnetic design makes its installation child's play and quick. Use it according to your needs and ensure accurate yet safe IPL hair removal.

Impressive longevity

Say goodbye to inefficient IPL epilators that become unusable very quickly. ANLAN's device is distinguished by a very long life of about 999,999 light pulses. This means that you can successfully use it for a really long time! Get rid of unwanted hair from selected parts of your body and don't be afraid that the epilator will refuse to serve you too quickly.

Convenient access to important information

Operating the epilator is made easy by its built-in display. It has been designed to give you convenient access to the most important information, without disturbing the design of the device. With its help you can easily check the current energy level and the selected mode. You will also find out how many light pulses are left to use.
