Edifier B700 5.1.2 soundbar

The Edifier B700 soundbar will make you feel like you're in a movie theater in your own home. It is compatible with Dolby Vision and Dolby Atmos, and with its 5.1.2 speaker system, it can provide an unforgettable musical experience. The set also includes a 5.8G wireless subwoofer. The product supports multiple connectivity options - including Bluetooth 5.0 or HDMI. It also offers 4 playback modes to choose from. You'll also find a practical remote control in the package.

A new level of home entertainment

Give yourself an unforgettable experience while watching your favorite movies on Blu-ray, Netflix, Amazon Prime, Apple TV, Disney Plus or HBO. The speakers support Dolby Atmos technology, so they can provide the highest quality surround sound. Now in your own room, you'll feel like you're in the center of exciting events - set yourself up for greater immersion and unique experiences!

Superior sound quality

What else makes the B700 capable of delivering amazing effects with Dolby Atmos technology? The product offers a specially designed 5.1.2 system that includes 2 full-range upward-facing speakers, 2 racetrack side speakers, 3 front speakers and a wireless subwoofer, which is equipped with an 8-inch bass unit and connects in the 5.8GHz band, guaranteeing high immunity to interference. All this offers a wide sound field and a power output of up to 175 watts - ideal for a room of about 50m².

As many as 4 playback modes

This unique soundbar is perfect for almost any situation. It allows you to choose from 4 playback modes, so you can easily adjust it to your expectations. Movie mode will give you an unforgettable movie-watching experience, while Game is perfect for dynamic, immersive gameplay. Music mode will highlight the highlights of your favorite music genres. Voice is also an interesting option, which will work well, for example, when watching presentations, stand-ups or other speeches.

Carefully considered design

The soundbar not only provides fantastic sound quality, but also looks great. It is equipped with a sturdy PVC plastic housing and metal mesh, making it stand out for its modern, minimalist character. What's more, it comes with a special bracket that allows you to attach the device stably to the wall. If you prefer, you can also simply place the soundbar on a shelf or dresser.

Various connectivity options

The B700 allows you to connect your devices in various ways - it offers AUX, optical, coaxial and HDMI inputs. You can also connect to it wirelessly, using Bluetooth 5.0, which provides stable transmission and immunity to interference. In addition, the device supports HDMI 2.1 with support for 4K HDR and HDR 10+. There is also an eARC function, which allows the B700 to be connected to a smart TV with just one cable - Dolby Atmos signals will be transmitted wirelessly.

Remote control included

With Edifier, you can always have everything you need at your fingertips. The set includes a small remote control that provides quick access to all the most important functions. Use it to conveniently turn the soundbar on or off, adjust the volume, select the sound source, change the playback mode, mute the speaker and more! You no longer need to get up from your comfortable couch or chair.
