Edifier HECATE G2BT gaming headphones (red)

Ensure you have the right equipment as you prepare for a vigorous game. Edifier G2BT headphones are a must-have for any gamer! The 40-millimeter drivers provide crystal clear sound, while the high-end microphone allows you to communicate freely with your team members. RGB backlighting helps create a gaming atmosphere, and Bluetooth 5.2 connectivity ensures reliable transmission. The product is widely compatible, extremely lightweight and can work for up to 36 hours.

Turn yourself into a listener

Allow yourself full immersion into the gaming world with the G2BT headphones. The dynamic 40mm drivers provide crystal clear sound and will surprise you with powerful bass and rich detail. What's more, the headphones support two modes - Game and Music, so they're perfect for any circumstances!

Stay in touch with your players

Want to get involved in the game and create the perfect tactics with your team members? The microphone that the G2BT model is equipped with will make it possible for you! The device will accurately record your voice, and ENC noise cancellation technology will eliminate unnecessary background noise, so nothing will distract you.

Claim victory in style

Create a unique gaming vibe with Edifier headphones. The G2BT model features RGB backlighting, which adds to the aesthetic appeal of the hardware. You can freely choose the color from the many available suggestions. The adjustable headband allows you to customize the equipment. Functionality, stunning design and comfort are the hallmarks of gaming headphones.

Forget about limitations

Afraid that the headphones will discharge during an important game? Don't be! The G2BT features a powerful rechargeable battery that allows the equipment to run continuously for 36 hours (if the RGB backlight is turned off) or 24 hours (when you use the backlight). The time it takes to charge the headphones is about 2 hours. A USB cable is included, with which you will power the equipment with energy.

Even more convenience

Depending on what kind of entertainment you happen to be in the mood for, you can conveniently choose the headphones' mode from two options: Music and Game. The G2BT support Bluetooth 5.2 technology and feature a PixArt chip, so you can enjoy a reliable connection and low latency of 40 ms. You'll always react quickly to your opponent's movement and won't be caught off guard!

Refined design

A huge advantage of the G2BT headphones is their light weight - they weigh only about 180g. As a result, you can comfortably use them for a long time without suffering any negative effects. The soft earcups will effectively wrap around your ears, providing full comfort. The material from which they are made is pleasant to the touch and skin-friendly.

Wide compatibility

Edifier G2BT headphones are compatible with most popular devices. They work with smartphones, tablets, laptops and gaming consoles. You can use them with any hardware. What's more, the buttons provide ease and convenience of use. Indulge yourself in the convenience that G2BT provides!
