Edifier HECATE GM260 Plus wired headphones (black)

Edifier GM260 Plus wired in-ear headphones are the perfect choice for any gamer and beyond. They will provide you with fantastic sound quality while playing games, listening to music or watching movies - 10-millimeter drivers are responsible for this. An additional advantage of the product is the USB-C connector curved at a 90° angle - it won't stick out or interfere with your phone! In addition, the headphones look incredibly stylish and are very comfortable.

Specially designed USB-C connector

Your phone doesn't have a minijack? Opt for headphones with a USB-C connector! The GM260 Plus are equipped with a specially designed plug that is curved at a 90° angle. As a result, it doesn't stick out and doesn't get in the way during gameplay. Now you can hold your phone comfortably! What's more, the solutions used make the headphones compatible with most devices with a USB-C port.

Discover a new dimension of gameplay

Take your gameplay to a new level and provide even more immersion. Experts from the Esports Acoustic Lab team were responsible for tuning the headphones. As a result, you can enjoy, among other things, accentuated sounds of footsteps and gunshots. Now you can easily hear your opponents, determine their location and not be surprised - immerse yourself in the gameplay and show everyone who's boss!

Fantastic sound quality

Hear every detail and give yourself an unforgettable experience. The headphones are equipped with 10-millimeter titanium-coated drivers that provide crystal-clear, detail-saturated sound. High-grade metal components are also responsible for the fantastic audio quality. All this makes the GM260 Plus model perfect not only for gaming, but also when you're listening to music or watching a movie.

Dream comfort

Do you often spend long hours playing games? Take care of your comfort and don't let fatigue stand in your way of victory! The headphones are extremely lightweight and comfortable - thanks to their ergonomic 55° curved design, they fit perfectly in the ears, do not fall out of them and do not exert unpleasant pressure. What's more, in the set you will find 3 pairs of interchangeable eartips (sizes S, M and L) and an additional double cap, which provides better isolation and muffles external sounds, allowing you to focus on the game.

Refined in every detail

When designing the headphones, every detail, even the smallest, was taken care of. The GM260 Plus have undergone a double anodizing process, making them stand out for their modern metallic color and wear resistance. Their convenient operation is enabled by a remote control integrated into the cable, with which you can, for example, adjust the volume, switch a song, activate the voice assistant, stop playback or answer the phone. You no longer have to reach for your smartphone every time!

Efficient communication with other players

Do you like to play team-based network games? If so, you certainly know how important proper communication with other players is sometimes and how many problems its absence can cause. To let you avoid this, the GM260 Plus headphones are equipped with a high-end omnidirectional microphone that will perfectly register your voice. Now you can easily plan the perfect tactics with the other team members or warn them of a threat!
