Wireless headphones for calls Tribit CallElite BTH80 (black)

Tribit CallElite BTH80 wireless call headphones (black)

Are phone calls an integral part of your work? Equip yourself with practical wireless headphones for convenient communication at the office or while driving. They have a 270° adjustable microphone and provide effective noise cancellation, plus they offer a practical mute button. Another advantage is the ergonomic design and low weight, which translates into comfort of use.

Stable connection

Forget about annoying cables. The Tribit CallElite BTH80 call headphones use Bluetooth 5.0 and a state-of-the-art Qualcomm QCC3020 chip, so you can enjoy maximum freedom of movement, as well as a stable connection with a 10m range. Importantly, you can connect the headphones to two devices at the same time to make things even easier.

No more noise

Tribit CallElite BTH80 use advanced noise cancellation technology and filter out unwanted background noises with high efficiency. With them, you can easily focus on your conversation even in a noisy office or while traveling down a busy street. Another asset of the headphones is the adjustable Qualcomm cVc 8.0 microphone - it accurately captures sound, moreover, you can easily adjust its position to your needs.

Thoughtful design

To ensure a long operating time, the headphones are equipped with a powerful battery. As a result, you can use them for up to 50 h, and it takes only 1.5 h to renew the energy. Practical buttons located on the earphone allow you to conveniently adjust the volume level, while the lightweight design (70 g) and the use of protein leather translate into high comfort of use.
