Let yourself be surprised by the instantaneous data transmission

The USB 3.0 enables you to transfer data at a speed you never dreamed of. Thanks to the Blitzwolf enclosure you can copy your files with the speed of up to 5 GB/sec. What is more, the device is compatible with previous versions - first generation USB 2.0

Connect to multiple devices

The Blitzwolf housing is compatible with devices that are equipped with a USB-C port. So you can connect it to your MacBook, selected laptops from other manufacturers, various smartphone models and even consoles such as the PS4, PS3, Xbox One or Xbox 360.

Trouble-free installation

Are you worried that mounting the enclosure may turn out to be a bit too complicated? Don't worry! All you have to do is slide out the back of the case, insert the SSD, secure it with the included rubber clips and put the cover back on. Nothing easier! You don't even have to use any toolsi

Quality, comfort, safety

The casing made of excellent quality aluminum provides full comfort and safety. It lies perfectly in your hand, and a diode placed on it indicates the operating status. The device is equipped with a complex protection system, which protects it against overheating, overload and short circuit. Pocket size and light weight of 42 g make the casing handy and portable - you can always have the drive placed in it conveniently with you.
