Fantastic image quality

It also improves color saturation and highlights the blue hue of the sky in photos or videos. This makes it ideal for landscape photography, among other applications.

Thoughtful design

High-quality AGC optical glass was used for the filter. As a result, it not only provides excellent image quality, but is also very durable and resistant to damage. In addition, the surface of the accessory has been coated with a multilayer nano-coating, which prevents water and dust from settling on it, and also reduces glare.
