Aigo AL390 computer case + RGB fan (white)

We are proud to present the Aigo AL390 computer case from Darkflash - a choice for users who are looking for a balance between elegant design and functionality. This Middle Tower chassis features a tempered glass side panel for durability and a view of the computer's interior. It also comes with a set of mounting screws for easy installation of components. The AL390 is spacious, yet blends in perfectly with any work or entertainment environment. You'll find an RGB fan included with the case.

Optimal temperature

The Aigo AL390 is designed to provide excellent thermal conditions for PC components. Fan mounting options include room for two 120mm fans on the front, two on the top, one on the side and two on the PSU cover to create efficient airflow and keep temperatures low. You can also customize the cooling system to your preference using the fan space.

Flexibility and expandability

The AL390 chassis supports M-ATX and ITX motherboards, while offering space for mounting two HDDs and two SSDs, guaranteeing ample space for storage media. With four expansion card slots and support for graphics cards with a maximum length of 340 mm and CPU coolers up to 160 mm, it's ready to accommodate advanced components without worrying about size.

Connectivity and control
Integrated USB 3.0, USB 2.0 and HD AUDIO connectors are easily accessible and provide convenient connectivity to other devices. In addition, the Power and Reset buttons are ergonomically placed for easy operation, further enhancing the user experience.
