Magicube Printed Transport magnetic blocks + cards 7 elements GEOMAG GEO-122

Take the little ones on an exciting journey with Magicube Printed Transport from Geomag. Designed for children aged 1.5 years and older, this 7-piece set combines fun with education by presenting different modes of transportation in the form of magnetic blocks and cards. By connecting the cubes together and creating colorful patterns, the child can not only learn the names and shapes of vehicles, but also practice manual skills.

Magnetic design, easy to build

Magicube Printed Transport is an ideal way to develop manual skills and coordination in the youngest children. The magnetic blocks, which connect at each edge, allow building in any direction, inspiring imagination and encouraging discovery of the world with simple shapes and vivid images.

Development through play

The set supports STEM learning, helping children develop their early cognitive, motor and visual-spatial skills. Through creative combinations, little ones can learn to distinguish and name different types of transportation - from a car to an airplane to a rocket.

Inspiration and creativity

Magicube Printed Transport not only offers construction fun, but also stimulates creative thinking. With the included set of cards, children can recreate patterns and arrange colorful pictures of vehicles.
