Flextail Evo Repel 3-in-1 Portable Mosquito Repellent (black).

The Flextail Evo Repel is a versatile outdoor accessory that combines the functions of a mosquito repellent, flashlight and powerbank. Its compact and lightweight design (490 g, 153 x 70 x 30 mm) makes it an ideal companion for camping, hiking and other outdoor activities. IPX5 water resistance ensures reliable operation even in harsh conditions, and the powerful battery guarantees long operating time. Note: repellent cartridges, which are not included, are required for the product to work.

Effective protection against mosquitoes

Evo Repel offers two modes of operation as a mosquito repellent: Camp and Outdoor. The first provides protection over an area of up to about 3 meters - ideal for quiet evenings at the campsite. The second, on the other hand, extends the operating range to about 9 meters, making it ideal for larger spaces, such as a barbecue in the garden. Both modes provide effective deterrence, allowing you to enjoy your time outdoors without unwanted guests.

Built-in flashlight

The Evo Repel model can also function as a flashlight. It allows you to choose from four brightness modes (100 / 700 / 1500 / 3000 lm) and five levels of light color temperature (2200 / 3300 / 3800 / 4300 / 6000 K). This makes it easy to adjust the lighting to your current needs - whether you're reading maps at night or enjoying an evening barbecue.

Durability and mobility in difficult conditions

The device is distinguished by its lightweight and portable design, so you can always have it at hand. In addition, the IPX5 water resistance makes the Evo Repel suitable for use in various weather conditions. Also noteworthy is the swivel handle and built-in magnet, which allow you to easily and stably mount the repellent in various locations. There is also a ¼ inch hole, with the help of which you can easily attach the product to a tripod, for example.

Powerful battery, powerbank function

Thanks to its powerful 51.84 Wh battery, the Evo Repel can also serve as a powerbank, allowing you to charge other mobile devices in the field. The product is also distinguished by its long operating time. In Camp mode, it will run for about 14-28 hours, and in Outdoor mode - about 8-15 hours. Don't be afraid that it will refuse to serve you too quickly!
