Esperanza EG102 wired gamepad (black)

Get ready for an immersive gaming experience! The Esperanza EG102 wired gamepad, designed specifically for PCs, gives you full control over your games, allowing you to immerse yourself in the world of virtual gameplay like never before. The ergonomic design will provide maximum comfort, eliminating hand fatigue even during long gaming sessions.

Control in your hands

With 2 analog manipulators, 12 action buttons (including 2 buttons in the keypads) and an 8-way crosshair, the Esperanza EG102 Gamepad offers full control over the game, allowing smooth and precise maneuvering at all times. What's more, the 2 operating modes (analog and digital) allow you to customize it to your preferences, providing the optimal experience for a variety of games.

Realistic vibration

The vibration motors that the gamepad is equipped with are a key element that increases the level of realism and engagement during gameplay. These precision-engineered mechanisms vibrate depending on the action in the game, from subtle vibrations when driving over rough terrain to powerful shocks during explosions or clashes. Their depth and intensity are perfectly tuned to highlight the most exciting moments of a game's adventure.

Quick and easy installation

The Esperanza EG102 gamepad also features easy installation, so you can quickly get started with your favorite games. It only requires a USB 2.0 connector to ensure a stable connection and smooth communication with your computer.
