3D Playmags magnetic blocks 162 set of 24 pieces

Give your child Playmags magnetic blocks and let them explore a world full of creative play and learning! The 24-piece set takes construction fun to a new level, allowing your little one to create whatever their imagination prompts. Vibrant colors and a variety of shapes ensure that playtime never gets boring. The product is suitable for children ages 3 and up and has received the Dr. Toy award and the National Parenting Center seal of approval.

Magnetic construction

With Playmags blocks, the realization of any idea is possible. The magnetic pieces connect easily, and their attraction works from all sides - even when turned over. As a result, children can quickly and effortlessly create both simple and more complicated constructions. Let your child build a house, a car, or even a flying ship!

Educational adventure

Playing with blocks develops mathematical and geometric skills, helping to understand concepts such as symmetry and shapes. Each model built is a step towards a better understanding of the basics of architecture and logic.
