Babymoov Nutribaby(+)-6-in-1 food processor (gray).

The Nutribaby Babymoov food processor is a reliable helper for preparing healthy meals for your baby. The device offers up to 6 different functions, providing the versatility your little one needs at different stages of development. With a capacity of as much as 2.2 liters, you are free to prepare larger quantities of food, and the 3-level speed control allows you to adjust the consistency of the food to your little one's preferences.

Multifunctionality at your fingertips

Nutribaby combines as many as 6 functions in one appliance: steaming, blending, sterilizing bottles and small accessories, heating (food jars and bottles) and defrosting. Thanks to the central control panel, operation of the robot is extremely intuitive - each button corresponds to one function, making daily use easier.

Saving time and energy

The Nutribaby food processor allows you to steam and blend at the same time. This solution allows you to prepare meals both in the form of soft food to eat with your hands and smooth purees, making it ideal for different stages of baby's development. In addition, the device uses 80% less energy compared to traditional cooking methods, making it not only an efficient, but also an eco-friendly choice for your home.

Steam cooking - healthy and tasty

With Nutribaby, you can simultaneously cook a variety of ingredients such as vegetables, fish, meat, eggs or fruits thanks to its two steaming baskets. Thanks to the special container, you can keep all the valuable juices that are formed during steaming and then add them back to the food you are preparing, enriching its texture and nutritional value.

With the user in mind

The robot offers three blending speeds that allow you to customize the consistency of your food, from smooth purees to meals with larger chunks. With a capacity of as much as 2.2 liters, including two steaming baskets (1,500 ml) and a large blender (700 ml), you're free to prepare larger quantities of food for backup. What's more, all the robot's components are easy to clean and dishwasher-safe, further simplifying daily use.
