Outdoor WiFi Camera IMOU Bullet 2E 5MP

IMOU Bullet 2E 5MP outdoor WiFi camera

IMOU Bullet 2E 5MP is an advanced outdoor surveillance camera that will keep your home safe around the clock. It offers intelligent night vision mode, accurately detects motion and people, and is resistant to various weather conditions, making it ideal for comprehensive security.

High image quality

Thanks to its high resolution, the camera can capture clear, detail-saturated images in almost any conditions. What's more, the device will also perform perfectly in the dark - its night vision range is up to 30m. So you can be sure that your home is properly protected around the clock.

Works well in all conditions

The camera has received an IP67 rating, which means it is resistant to rain and other harsh weather conditions. It is not intimidated by intense sunlight and even shocks and vibrations. As a result, it can provide reliable monitoring regardless of the season. In addition, the compact design of the device allows it to be installed seamlessly anywhere - at the front door, in the garden and more.

The Bullet 2E camera is equipped with a motion and people detection function - if someone comes within its range, you will immediately receive a notification on your phone. The device also has a built-in siren, which makes it easier to scare off possible burglars. You can also combine it with selected sensors and automate their operation.

More possibilities with the app

Download the Imou Life app for even more capabilities. With it, you can, for example, check the camera's live view and configure the detection area. There are also many other settings at your disposal. Customize the operation of the device according to your needs and enjoy reliable monitoring!

Convenient and secure file storage

IMOU camera users can also opt to purchase Imou Protect's paid subscription service, which, among other things, allows you to share the device with up to 20 users, offers more advanced AI features, and allows you to save recordings to the cloud. Information stored in this way is fully protected and encrypted - you don't have to worry about its security.
