Choetech H042 magnetic car holder

Choetech H042 car phone holder is an ideal choice for drivers looking for reliable support for their smartphone while driving. Thanks to its wide compatibility with most phones and innovative built-in magnet, this product not only provides security, but also convenience while traveling. From today you don't have to worry about the notoriously detachable mount!

Guaranteed durability and protection of your equipment

The holder uses 4 high-quality magnets that provide double magnetic attraction. This ensures that your phone is always attached to the holder, regardless of the road obstacles you pass on the way - it is stable during sharp turns, driving over bumpy terrains and speed bumps, and during sudden braking. In addition, its stable magnetic field does not affect the signal quality of your device, so you can use your GPS or talk on the phone with peace of mind.

Maximum convenience of use and easy installation

The mount is made of skin-safe silicone, which is resistant to any kind of damage, such as short-circuiting or overheating, plus its casing does not damage your car. The H042 features a compact size and light weight, which makes it convenient and easy to carry and its installation is extremely simple - just set it in the preferred position and place it on the ventilation grille. In addition, the mount is compatible with most vents, making it ideal for any driver.

Full control over the device

The H042 is equipped with a ball joint, which gives you the ability to rotate the holder 360 degrees. This asset allows you to position the device according to your own individual needs and gives you maximum comfort while driving. From now on, let nothing limit you.
