PGYTECH P-CG-031 SnapLock Nano Adapter

Enjoy fast and stable camera mounting. PGYTECH's SnapLock Nano adapter is equipped with a 1/4-20" screw, making it distinguished by its wide compatibility. Its installation is extremely easy. It's made of durable aluminum alloy, which makes it incredibly lightweight yet durable.

Stability

The adapter uses a specially designed, patented, tight-fitting screw to allow for a secure, stable attachment. This way you don't have to worry about your equipment falling off and being damaged.

Lightweight and durable

The accessory is made from high-grade aluminum alloy, giving it unparalleled durability and resistance to damage. The product is also extremely lightweight and small enough not to obstruct the camera's battery compartments. Its portable design also means you can always have it on hand.

Simple and quick installation

The product is designed in such a way that it can be installed quickly and conveniently from any direction. You can also buy more

SnapLock Nano adapters and use them simultaneously to mount or remove accessories in a snap - so you never miss an opportunity to take an original shot.

Wide compatibility

Compatibility problems are a thing of the past. The adapter is equipped with a 1/4-20" universal screw, which means it can handle many popular off-the-shelf devices. See if it's useful for you too!
