PULUZ metal cover with tripod mount for Insta360 X4

Enhance your photography and filming experience with the PULUZ Shield, designed specifically for the Insta360 X4 camera. Made of aircraft-grade aluminum alloy and precision CNC-machined, this metal shield is both lightweight and extremely durable. Its sturdy construction guarantees long-lasting protection without adding unnecessary weight to your equipment.

For the sake of your comfort

The cover has been designed with maximum functionality in mind. Thanks to intelligently placed openings, it does not block the buttons, battery compartment or reception opening. Seamless access to all camera functions makes it easy and convenient to use, and you can focus on capturing perfect shots without any distractions.

Simple and intuitive installation

The top of the cover is equipped with a cold-shoe mount, which allows you to seamlessly connect additional accessories such as a microphone, fill light, selfie stick or tripod. Thanks to the precise fit, the cover fits perfectly to the panoramic camera, and its installation and removal are child's play - you don't need any tools for this.

Wide compatibility

The innovative magnetic folding base is another advantage of the PULUZ shield. Equipped with a magnetic interface and a standard 1/4-inch thread, it is compatible with most tripods, allowing you to quickly and securely mount your camera in a variety of configurations.
