Mcdodo CA-5780 USB-C to USB-C 60W Data Cable 1.2m (black).

The Mcdodo CA-5780 cable is a high-quality 1.2m USB-C to USB-C cable that provides fast charging and data transfer. With power support of up to 60W, it is ideal for powering laptops, tablets and smartphones, offering versatility and convenience for everyday use. In addition, it features a digital display that provides real-time battery status.

High power and fast charging

The Mcdodo CA-5780 cable supports charging with up to 60W of power, allowing you to charge devices such as laptops, smartphones and tablets quickly and efficiently. Because it is compatible with fast charging technology, you are assured that your devices will be up and running in no time. The built-in LED display allows you to monitor the charging power in real time, giving you more control over the process.

Durable construction and safe use

The cable is made of high-quality materials, such as reinforced copper wires, which guarantee stable power and data transfer, as well as a long product life. Durable construction, including solid insulation and braid, protect the cable from mechanical damage, ensuring long-lasting use even in demanding conditions.

Multifunctionality and wide compatibility

The Mcdodo CA-5780 is compatible with a wide range of devices equipped with a USB-C port, including smartphones, tablets, laptops and gaming consoles. No matter what device you want to charge or connect, this cable will ensure fast and stable performance.

Data transfer and charging at the same time

With the Mcdodo CA-5780, you can not only charge your devices, but also transfer data at speeds of up to 480 Mbps. This feature allows you to conveniently copy files between devices without the need for additional cables, making the cable ideal for work and everyday use.
