Mcdodo CA-5660 USB-A to Lightning cable with flashing light 1.2m (black).
The Mcdodo CA-5660 cable is an innovative solution for Apple device users who want not only fast charging, but also a modern design. Equipped with a pulsating LED light, the cable not only makes it easy to find in the dark, but also adds a unique touch to any charging station.

Pulsating light for convenience and style
The built-in pulsating LED light indicates the charging status, while making the cable easily visible even in the dark. This is not only a practical solution, but also an aesthetic element that enhances the modern look of the device.

Fast and stable 3A charging
With 3A current support, the Mcdodo CA-5660 cable provides fast charging for Apple devices, saving time and ensuring that your iPhone, iPad or other compatible device is always ready to go. Advanced technologies protect against overcharging and overheating, further enhancing the safety of use.

Robust design and durability
The cable is made of high-quality materials, including a thick copper core, which guarantees long life and resistance to damage.

Reinforced connectors and a flexible braid prevent tearing and bending, making the cable ideal for everyday use in all conditions.

Charging and data synchronization
The Mcdodo CA-5660 not only charges your devices quickly, but also enables high-speed data transfer. With a transfer speed of 480 Mbps, you can easily transfer files, photos and other data between devices without the need for additional cables or adapters.

CarPlay compatibility
The Mcdodo cable is also compatible with CarPlay, allowing you to conveniently use mobile apps, navigation and multimedia while driving, ensuring smooth operation and full control of your device in the car.
