Advanced VIA chip
What makes the hub impress with reliable performance? A high-end 2-core VIA chip! It is thanks to it that each USB 3.0 port can provide transmission speeds of up to 5 Gbps. Orico's years of experience working on PCB chips has resulted in a hub that will meet the expectations of even the most demanding users.

Power adapter for reliable operation
The use of hubs that do not have a built-in power source can even result in damage to the hard drive. To effectively prevent similar risks, Orico's product is equipped with a 12-volt power supply. As a result, the devices connected to it can always operate safely and stably - even at full load.

Detachable cable - freedom of use
Enjoy the freedom and comfort of use. The hub is equipped with a 1-meter detachable USB cable, with which you can conveniently connect it to your computer. Easy to use, store and transport, yet extremely durable - it will prove itself in many applications and will certainly not let you down.

Practical LED indicators
Each USB port has an independent LED indicator that will provide you with information about its status. The gentle blue light does not glare into your eyes or interfere with your work or rest. When it's on, it means that a specific device has been properly connected and is working properly.
