Wired headphones for kids BuddyPhones School+ (blue)

BuddyPhones StudyBuddy wired headphones for kids (blue)

BuddyPhones StudyBuddy are headphones for kids designed for remote learning and more. They are equipped with a microphone and automatically limit the volume to a safe level of 85dB. They are also very durable and resistant to damage. They are also distinguished by an ergonomic design and a special jack connector with an additional port for connecting additional headphones. You'll also find decorative stickers included.

Detachable microphone

StudyBuddy headphones are perfect for remote learning. They are equipped with a high-quality microphone that will perfectly record your child's voice. This allows kids to not only actively participate in lessons or online courses, but also, for example, to chat with friends!

Effective protection of your child's hearing

You no longer have to worry about your child exaggerating the volume. The headphones offer a special hearing protection feature that automatically limits the volume to a maximum of 85dB. This means kids can use them safely.

Even more convenience

The long, 1.4-meter cable provides freedom of movement and allows comfortable use of the headphones. The button integrated into it allows for simple playback control and handling of incoming calls. What's more, the cable is terminated with a special connector with an additional port. This makes it possible to connect an additional pair of headphones. Now your child can watch a movie or listen to music together with friends!

Improved design

The headphones are also distinguished by their solid, durable design. Don't worry that your child will quickly destroy them - they are highly resistant to damage. BuddyPhones are also equipped with skin-friendly, anti-allergenic earcups that provide unparalleled comfort. The headphones also have an adjustable headband, allowing kids to optimally adjust them to their needs.

Stickers included

Let your children express themselves and make using the headphones even more fun. The set includes colorful stickers with which you can easily decorate the device. In the package you will also find DIY stickers to decorate on your own. So your kids can develop creativity and give their headphones an original character!
