ESR Hybrid Case (HaloLock) for iPhone 16 (black)

The ESR Hybrid Case (HaloLock) is compatible with the iPhone 16, and is made of scratch-resistant acrylic that allows you to enjoy the aesthetic appeal of your device while protecting it from damage. The reliable HaloLock magnets guarantee a stable attachment of the MagSafe accessory, and the thickness of just 1.6 mm ensures comfort while using the phone.

MagSafe compatibility

Thanks to the built-in HaloLock system, the ESR Hybrid Case guarantees stable attachment of MagSafe accessories. The high-performance magnets are able to hold up to seven times the weight of an iPhone 16, ensuring safe and stable use of chargers and other magnetic accessories.

Protection you can rely on

The Hybrid Case from ESR is compliant with MIL-STD-810H 516.8 military standard, which means increased resistance to drops and impacts. Reinforced Air Guard corners effectively absorb impact, minimizing the risk of damage to your phone.

Raised edges

To protect the screen and camera from scratches, the case features raised edges - 1.2mm for the screen and 0.7mm for the lens. This keeps the iPhone 16 protected even when it lies with the screen or camera down.

Resistant shell

The back of the case is made of high-quality acrylic, which is scratch-resistant and won't yellow over time, keeping its aesthetic appearance for a long time. The coating protects against everyday scratches, which is important for people who carry their phone in their pocket or bag along with other items.
