Deli Tools EDL-G206 6" G-type carpenter's clamp

A solid carpenter's clamp is almost an indispensable tool in any carpentry workshop or modeling studio. With its help, you will stably fix the selected elements to the table and facilitate their processing or assembly. The EDL-G206 model by Deli Tools provides strong clamping pressure and reliable holding of specific items. It was made of high-quality cast iron, and its maximum clamping range is 95mm.

Indispensable in every workshop

Deli Tools carpenter's clamp in 6" size will come in handy when performing various carpentry and modeling works. Thanks to its well-thought-out design with a T-shaped swivel handle, it guarantees the right clamping force and the necessary stability. You can easily adjust it to your needs and attach selected elements to the table to make your work easier and faster.

High quality workmanship

Experience how much difference the right choice of tools can make to your work. Excellent quality cast iron was used to make the clamp, so the product is extremely durable and resistant to damage and wear. It will also provide optimal, strong pressure, which is essential for most applications. Using it will also not cause you any problems - it is extremely easy and convenient.
