Exceptional power

DOCO mustache vacuum is distinguished by its suction power, which you can adjust from 45 to 70 kpa. In addition, the special technology it is equipped with will help you quickly unblock pores and remove blackheads with water. What's more, it also works to exfoliate and moisturize your face. From today you can enjoy professional equipment in your home!

Three tips for different applications

The mustache remover is equipped with 3 different tips, so it will work well for different applications. The flat tip will be ideal for small areas like the corners of the nose. The smaller, round tip is designed for middle areas like the nose. While the large, round tip will help clean larger areas like the forehead and cheeks. With DOCO you will take care of your entire face!

Three modes of operation

DOCO was created with different skin types in mind, which is why it has up to 3 levels of suction control. The first, gentle mode, operating at 45 kpa, is designed for sensitive skin. If your skin is a combination type, use the medium mode with a power of 55 kpa. On the other hand, a high mode with a suction power of 70 kpa is recommended for oily skin and men.

Easy to use

The mustache vacuum cleaner is a functional device that will also be easy to use. You will operate it with one hand, and one button will allow you to turn the device on and off, as well as change its modes. In addition, it can serve you from 1 to 1.5 months on a single charge! You also don't have to worry about the battery running out unexpectedly, as the device will remind you when the charge is low.

Unique design

DOCO equipment is also distinguished by its modern design. It is made of skin-friendly silicone, which will make its use even more comfortable. You will easily see the effects of its operation, as it consists of two water containers - one holds clean water, and the other collects water after the treatment performed. In addition, its cleaning and folding is very easy. All this makes it possible for you to perform professional facial treatments at home!
