With the Vention cable, charging and data transfer won't take up much of your time. Charging at 2A and transferring files at 480 Mbps means you won't wait any longer for your devices. The cable offers USB-A and Micro USB connectors for wide compatibility, and features a robust design and guarantees a range of safety features to protect your charged equipment from common electrical hazards.

Short charging time

The cable supports fast charging protocols such as QC, or FCP, offering fast and safe energy restoration for popular devices. It takes just 2 hours to fully charge an Honor 8X or Xiaomi Play. What's more, the cable supports data transfer speeds of 480 Mbps, so you can transfer your files in no time even while charging!

Safety is the key

The robust design of the cable allows charging at a stable 2A, so you don't have to worry about short-circuiting, short-circuiting, etc. What's more, if the battery is close to full charge, the cable lowers the current, so your equipment is protected from overcharging and overheating. Now your devices are safe!

Robust construction and wide compatibility

You don't have to worry that the cable will quickly refuse to serve you. Its reinforced construction prevents damage from bending, and the nickel-plated connectors can withstand frequent use. What's more, the USB and Micro USB connectors ensure wide compatibility with many popular devices.
