Active sound-collecting technology

The lavalier jack microphone by Puluz is a product that will work in many situations. The quality and size of the microphone make it ideal for journalism, teaching online lessons, recording video blogs or when streaming. The microphone can easily be clipped into a shirt, dress or other item of clothing. The technology used in the microphone ensures high quality recorded sound.

Condenser microphone

Thanks to its condenser microphone design, the Puluz PU425 is able to process impulse waveforms faithfully and transmit a wide frequency band evenly.

USB-C interface

The use of the most popular USB-C interface on the market today gives wide compatibility with mobile devices.
