USB Cable Type-C / HDMI / 4K / 2m Joyroom SY-20C1 (gray)

USB Type C / HDMI / 4K / 2m Joyroom SY-20C1 (gray) cable

The cable allows you to conveniently transmit video between USB-C-enabled devices and displays, using an HDMI connector. The product is distinguished by its robust design, and its USB-C connector is curved at a 90° angle, so you can comfortably play a game on your phone while enjoying 4K quality video on the big screen. The cable provides wide compatibility and will successfully support laptops, tablets and phones from well-known manufacturers. Note: The cable when used with iPhones across the 15 series supports monitors and some TVs, but not Samsung TVs.

High quality workmanship

The cable is made of copper, which is characterized by high conductivity and ensures smooth transmission without interference. The core of the cable has a 4-layer protection, which makes the cable resistant to wear and tangle-free. What's more, the connectors are coated with a layer of 24K gold, which positively affects the signal quality and durability of the product.

Reliable performance

The Joyroom SY-20C1 provides lightning-fast data transmission and supports images in 4K, so you get clear, noise-free images along with excellent sound quality, with no lag or distortion. With Joyroom, cinema in your home is at your fingertips!
