Avatto S16 TUYA Universal IR WiFi Remote
Forget about stacks of remotes for your TV, blinds, garage doors, air conditioning, or lighting. The Avatto S16 is a universal remote control that replaces all others, providing you with convenience and space-saving. It guarantees fast and precise communication with devices using infrared up to 10 meters away. Moreover, it supports the dedicated TUYA/ Smart Life app, allowing you to remotely control your devices using a phone or tablet. The remote stands out with its solid construction and performs great in almost any condition!

Compatible with Many Devices
The Avatto S16 is compatible with many devices. Its extended infrared code library covers over 5000+ IR devices such as TVs, air conditioners, set-top boxes, fans, or lighting. This makes the S16 an indispensable tool for intelligent home control. With S16, you save space and gain the convenience of controlling various devices with a single controller!

Smart Home - Alexa, Turn Off the Light
The remote supports 2.4 GHz Wi-Fi connectivity, meaning you can remotely control devices using a smartphone or tablet. Once connected to the app, you can use smart assistants like Amazon Alexa or Google Home and control devices in your home with simple voice commands. This is a particularly convenient solution that frees you from the need to use a remote or other controller. Avatto S16 is a convenient, future-proof solution that allows for easy and intuitive management of a smart home.

Versatile Control with Stable Signal
The Avatto S16 offers an infrared range of up to 10 meters, enabling control of devices even from the far end of the room. Equipped with omnidirectional infrared transmitters, it catches your commands in a 360° range. This means even greater convenience and flexibility in controlling devices in your home.

Solid Construction
The device operates in a wide temperature range (0℃ to 60℃) and copes well with high humidity, which means it performs great under various conditions. This assures you that the Avatto S16 will work smoothly regardless of where you need it.

Share Access
The remote allows easy operation by other family members as well. In the mobile app, you can allow other household members access to manage the devices. Opting for Avatto S16, you make your home even more functional and friendly for all its residents. Introduce innovation into your life and allow yourself the convenience offered by smart technology.
