Superfire T57 camping lamp

The Superfire T57 lamp is a device that is perfect for many situations! It offers multiple light modes, so it will meet the needs of different users. Its maximum operating time reaches up to 30 hours. Thanks to its waterproof design, it will not be intimidated by changing weather conditions.

Choose from different light modes

Adjust the operation of the lamp to your needs! Model T57 allows you to choose from as many as 7 light modes. Among them you will find warm, white or red light. Choose one of the available modes and adjust the lighting to almost any situation - just press the dedicated button.

Long working time

Use the light as long as you want! The built-in rechargeable battery allows for up to 30 hours of use (depending on the intensity of the light). You will renew the lamp's energy using the included USB-C cable. What's more, a light indicator will inform you of the charging status.

With different usage scenarios in mind

The design of the Superfire lamp will delight any lover of retro style. It is made of durable materials, so it will serve you well for a long time. The lamp is also distinguished by its waterproof design - so you can use it even on rainy days without any problems! All this makes the T57 model perfect for various scenarios of use. You will successfully use it during camping, nights under the open sky, and it will also light your way during a night hike. It will also come in handy as a night light!
