Cable USB-C USB-C Remax Ranger II, RC-C002, (silver)

The Remax Ranger II is a functional cable that provides up to 65 W and up to 2.4 A of power. Thanks to its design and 90° curved connectors, it is very convenient to use and allows you to freely use the devices connected to it. What's more, the product was created from high-quality materials such as aluminium alloy and TPE, which makes it more resistant to mechanical damage and significantly extends its life.

Wide compatibility, fast charging

If you use devices equipped with a USB-C port, the Remax Ranger II cable will certainly come in handy. You can use it to charge your chosen equipment in the blink of an eye, thanks to its maximum power of 65 W. The product is compatible with devices such as smartphones, tablets, wireless headphones and more.

Specially designed connectors - even more convenience

The cable is equipped with 90° curved connectors, allowing you to comfortably use the devices connected to it. Nothing will stick out or get in your way anymore! This is perfect for people who often play mobile games or watch TV series on their smartphone or tablet.
