Outdoor Wi-Fi Camera IMOU Bullet 2C-D 1080p

IMOU Bullet 2C-D outdoor camera will help you take care of security in your home. It provides high-quality images in Full HD resolution and supports the H.264 codec. It also detects motion - if a person comes within its range, you will get a notification on your phone. The device also has a built-in microphone and is IP67-rated. It won't be intimidated by demanding conditions!

Keep your hand on the pulse

Worried that a stranger might be hanging around your house and you won't know about anything? The Bullet 2C-D camera will allow you to solve this problem! If someone appears near it, you will receive an appropriate notification. What's more, the device detects only human silhouettes - don't worry that you will get unnecessary messages when your dog or cat comes within its range.

High image quality

With the IMOU you will see every detail. The Bullet 2C-D camera captures high-quality 1080p video, and with Night Vision can provide clear images even at night (at distances of up to 30m). The device also has a built-in microphone that records audio while monitoring. This way you always know exactly what's going on!

It is not intimidated by harsh conditions

The IMOU Bullet 2C-D camera will perform well even in demanding conditions. It stands out for its robust, durable design and IP67 rating - rain poses no threat to it. So you can mount it in front of the house, in the garden or by the garage without any worries - it will not be intimidated by unfavorable weather.

Several video recording options

Save your video footage and be sure that if you need it, you won't lose access to it. The camera supports NVR and micro SD cards of up to 256 GB. It also allows you to store your recordings in the cloud. Choose the best solution for you and conveniently view your stored footage!

Try out the dedicated app

Add your device to the Imou Life app and enjoy a variety of exciting features. Gain access to the live camera view - now you can check what's happening in your home with just a few clicks on your phone. You can also play back recorded footage at any time. Check out what else is waiting for you!
