ONIKUMA X11 Headphones (pink).

Are you looking for stylish headphones with a cool lighting effect? Do you value comfort and quality? Do you love to play and chat online? Made of pink plastic and equipped with attachable cat ears, the ONIKUMA X11 headphones will make a furore among your friends! What's more, thanks to the ergonomic shape and skin-friendly materials, you can use the headphones for hours without feeling uncomfortable! You can disconnect or connect the included noise-canceling microphone at any time - the same goes for the cat ears.

Comfort of use

ONIKUMA X11 headphones are designed to guarantee you exceptional comfort, even during prolonged use. Their large comfortable earcups have been upholstered with a nice-touch material, eliminating the possibility of potential chafing or discomfort. Both earcups feature cushions made of skin-pleasing material designed specifically to fit the shape of your head perfectly. In addition, the adjustable headband will allow you to customize the headphones.

Fantastic sound

To give you the best sound quality, the ONIKUMA X11 headphones are equipped with 50-millimeter audio drivers. What's more, the over-ear pads used are not only comfortable and easy to clean, but also great at dampening outside noises so you can win your next battles, watch your favorite anime or TV series or listen to hours of music without interference. For your convenience, both the volume control and the microphone on/off switch are located on the cable coming out of the headphones.

Versatility

The ONIKUMA X11 is much more than just a headphone dedicated to gamers - while it can easily be connected to various consoles such as PlayStation, Xbox and Nintendo Switch, it is also designed to connect to computers, tablets and phones to keep the fun going! With support for both Mini Jack and USB inputs, these headphones offer unparalleled versatility for casual gaming, movie sessions, listening to your favorite music or communicating with friends. The ONIKUMA X11 is the perfect option for complete entertainment!

Clear and clean calls

Nothing makes making friends easier than conversations where your voice is clear and intelligible. The microphone equipped in the X11 headphones has a built-in noise cancellation function, eliminating ambient sound interference and ensuring uninterrupted conversation. Your friends will hear your every word in excellent quality - reliable sound quality is the foundation of conversations.
