Dual Fast Wireless Charger Choetech T535 (white)

Now you can conveniently wirelessly charge up to 2 devices at the same time. The Choetech T535 dual inductive charger will allow you to do so, which offers up to 10 W of power and is equipped with as many as 5 coils to provide a large charging area. The product is powered by USB-C and features wide compatibility. With its help, you can easily charge your iPhone and AirPods case, for example!

Impressive performance

The charger offers power outputs of up to 5W, 7.5W and even 10W, making it capable of both standard and fast wireless charging. It is also compatible with most smartphones from well-known manufacturers. What's more, the product does not require the phone to be removed from its case (up to 5mm) for charging.

Safe charging

Don't worry about damaging the charger or the devices you charge with it. The T535 is Qi certified and has been protected against overcurrent, overheating, short circuit and overcharging. Durable ABS and PU plastics were used to make the product, which ensures its durability and strength - it will serve you well for a long time.

Refined in every detail

The product is made of high-quality PU plastic, and thanks to the non-slip pads on the bottom, it will not slide on the surface of a desk or table. The charger also has special holes that are responsible for efficient heat dissipation, preventing it from getting too hot.
