SVEN MK-490 microphone (black)

Need a professional microphone for online communication, video conferencing or audio recording? The SVEN MK-490 is the solution to meet your needs. This indispensable desktop microphone brings convenience and takes sound quality to a new level.

Thoughtful design

Easy operation and practicality are unique strengths of this device. Turning the microphone on and off is done without additional operations on the computer - just use the button on the base of the microphone. The flexible base allows you to rotate the microphone to any angle to suit your needs, and the heavy base guarantees stability, giving you confidence that the microphone will stay in position.

Let others hear you better

The SVEN MK-490 desktop microphone is a tool that will be ideal for Internet conversations and, for example, online foreign language lessons. Increased sensitivity translates into clear, high-quality sound when chatting online and recording on a PC or notebook. With the SVEN MK-490, you are assured that your voice will sound clear and professional in any situation.
