SmartWatch HiFuture FutureGo Pro (silver)

HiFuture FutureGo Pro smartwatch (silver)

FutureGo Pro is the quintessence of luxury. Made of stainless steel, the smartwatch stands out for its impressive wearability and elegant design. The battery life of this model reaches up to 20 days, during which the device can monitor the quality of your sleep, heart rate or the quality of your workouts. It allows you to receive calls, messages and notifications, all on a delightfully colorful screen.

Amazing colors

The FutureGo Pro smartwatch is equipped with a 1.32-inch TRUCOLOR GEN2 screen, which provides a high-quality Full HD image with a resolution of 360 x 360. It effectively displays vibrant colors that will delight any user. At the same time, it is surprisingly efficient.

Treat yourself to a touch of luxury

If you appreciate elegance and quality, this model is for you. The elegant stainless steel case provides resistance to the trials of daily use. The dial is distinguished by a waterproof rating of 3ATM, so it is also resistant to splashes and accidental contact with water. The device can therefore accompany you in your daily activities without worrying about damage. This is a solid, exclusive smartwatch that will keep up with your rhythm!

Even longer operating time

FutureGo Pro will accompany you everywhere. You don't have to worry about it discharging during a long trip. The 430 mAh battery provides 20 days of use on a single charge. This is one of the most beloved features of this model - you don't have to limit yourself to one mode to enjoy the device's long runtime.

Vital functions under constant control

This SmartWatch is your ally in taking care of your well-being. It was created to help you improve your daily routine. It measures your heart rate, blood oxygen saturation and sleep cycle and sends you real-time notifications to help you improve your habits and feel better as a result.

Synchronize relevant data

It's important that you always stay up to date. With FutureGo Pro, you won't miss any important information. The smartwatch stores data and provides you with information as soon as a notification appears on your phone. So you don't have to carry it with you to stay in touch with loved ones or when you're waiting for an important call. Just go about your business and the smartwatch will inform you when needed.
