HiFuture Future Aura smartwatch (silver)

Future Aura is an elegant smartwatch. It is not only a functional device, but also a great addition to your closet. Equipped with a color AMOLED display with a 1.08-inch screen, it provides an amazing visual experience. With it, you can improve your fitness and measure your performance in many sports. The device also monitors your health, providing clear information on its quality for 7 days without charging interruptions. The watch is waterproof, so it can accompany you in any situation.

Let the colors engulf you

The smartwatch is equipped with a 1.08-inch screen that makes navigating through settings and functions simple and fun. The AMOLED display is responsible for the amazing visual experience. You will see a clear image full of spectacular colors on your wrist. Customize the look of the screen and set one of more than 100 color dials, allowing Future Aura to reflect your mood.

Quick connections from the smartwatch

Enjoy the freedom and mobility that Future Aura provides. The smartwatch lets you store important contacts and allows you to make phone calls without taking out your phone. Simply pick up or dial a number and enjoy a clear conversation. Can't answer? Use the screen and send a short text message with relevant information.

Your personal assistant

Future Aura will let you work in harmony with your rhythm. If you've been in high gear all day, the device will remind you to take a break. It will also monitor your heart rate during your daily activities and workouts, so you can easily manage stress and even quickly detect any problems. Future Aura will also send you notifications of events that are important to you, so you'll never again forget an important date or be late for an appointment.

Limitless support 7 days a week

You don't have to worry about charging your smartwatch too often. The device supports magnetic charging, which takes about 2 hours. This time provides enough energy for the Future Aura to be your support for daily chores all week long. What's more, you don't have to take the watch off when you wash dishes or go to the pool. The smartwatch is IP68 waterproof, so it can accompany you without limits!
