Extraordinary precision

The ENCHEN X7 razor stands out for its quiet operation and painless beard removal. The rotating head allows for a perfect, three-dimensional shave - the blades glide smoothly across the surface of the skin, so they easily reach even the most inaccessible areas of the face and neck. The razor blades are made of hypoallergenic materials, so they can adhere perfectly to the skin of the face without causing irritation. You don't have to spend a lot of time in the bathroom to achieve the desired effect.

Reliable blades

Forget about replacing the razors in your razor. To prolong its life, it uses a self-sharpening mechanism. All blades have also undergone ECM electrochemical treatment, making them extremely resistant to wear - the device will successfully serve you for many years. What's more, in order to protect the razor from children, for example, it is equipped with a special button that locks the operation.

Cordless operation

The razor is distinguished by its long operation time. An advanced lithium-ion battery with a capacity of as much as 600 mAh, which allows up to 90 minutes of operation, is responsible for its performance. Built-in LED indicators will let you know the state of charge, and you can replenish the razor's energy reserves in as little as an hour using a USB-C cable.

Easy cleaning

The razor is 100% waterproof, and its magnetic head can be easily removed, so keeping the device clean will not be a problem at all. What's more, the waterproof rating is as high as IPX7, so you can successfully use it also in the shower!
