Diagonal pliers Deli Tools EDL2206

Universal combination pliers are one of the most popular tools. Thanks to their specially shaped jaws, they have several functions. The flat end can be used for holding and crushing, and the sharp edge is good for cutting and bending. Forged from high quality carbon steel - they stand out for their impressive strength and long service life. The pliers are equipped with high frequency hardened cutting edges that have a high hardness of 54-62HRC and a high cutting capacity. The two-coloured ergonomic handle made of environmentally friendly material lies well in the hand and prevents fatigue even during prolonged use.
