Introducing the Vention audio cable, which offers incredible flexibility. Now you can connect your audio devices in any way you want, without being limited by short cables. It's ideal for both the living room and the recording studio, with which you can set up your equipment any way you want to get the best sound.

Quality you can rely on

The BAXBI Vention cable is designed to maintain excellent sound quality. Using copper as a conductive material and a gold coating on the contacts, the cable provides clear sound without distortion. This allows you to hear every subtle detail in music, every instrument or the slightest whisper in movie dialogues. It's the sound experience you deserve.

Durable construction

The product is not only high quality sound, but also durable construction. Cotton braid protects the cable from mechanical damage and bending. Aluminum alloy in the connectors guarantees a stable connection and resistance to corrosion. As a result, the cable not only provides excellent sound, but also stands the test of time. The easy-to-use 3.5mm male-to-male design allows quick connection to various audio devices without unnecessary complications.
