Havit MS626GT wireless mouse (black and blue)
You will successfully use the MS626GT both at work and during ordinary Internet browsing. The resolution of the mouse is 1200 DPI, it is also distinguished by smooth operation. Its ergonomic design provides comfort of use, and quiet operation will not annoy you. The 2.4 GHz connection ensures stable signal transmission, and the ABS plastic construction is responsible for its durability.

It will prove itself in various applications
You will use the Havit mouse, for example, when creating graphic designs, browsing the Internet or gaming. Its resolution is 1200 DPI, and thanks to optical technology it provides smooth operation and precision. It also stands out for its fast response to movement, for even more convenient use.

Wireless operation
A cable will no longer restrict your movements. The Havit mouse works wirelessly, connecting via 2.4 GHz. The signal range is 10 meters in a 360° radius. What's more, thanks to plug&play its connection will take just a moment. You no longer need to install additional drivers, just connect the micro USB receiver (included) to your computer. The mouse is powered by an AA battery, ensuring a long working time of the device.
