S-CC100A14 100W USB C to USB C Joyroom / 100W / 1.2m cable (purple)

Charge your devices and transfer files without wasting precious time waiting. The S-CC100A14 cable from Joyroom was created to give you the performance you expect from your devices. Equipped with 2 USB-C connectors, it stands out for its wide compatibility, and with a maximum power of 100 watts, you will safely replenish the power of a variety of devices. The cable was created from high-quality, flexible TPE, making it even more resistant to damage and pleasing to the eye with its pleasant appearance.

Fast and efficient

The maximum power the cable supports is as much as 100 watts, which means you'll charge both smartphones and laptops. The S-CC100A14 supports a current of 5A, so less than two hours is enough to replenish power in laptops from popular manufacturers. What's more, compared to traditional cables, the Joyroom compares really well - 30 minutes is how long it will take you to replenish your smartphone's power to 65%. With other cables, your device's energy level will only reach 20% in that time. Enjoy the performance you deserve!

Instant data transfer

Transferring large files between devices? This will also only take a moment! The cable allows data transfer at 480 Mbps and allows you to transfer data while charging. Such a solution will make it easier for you to use your device in many situations.

Robust construction

The cable was created from high-quality materials, making it extremely resistant to daily use. Studies show that its durability is up to 10,000 charging cycles. But that's not all. Flexible, soft and pleasant to the touch, the cable looks really great.
